We look at key issues in Matthew, Mark and Luke, including how to read narratives, interpreting the parables, and Jesus' death and resurrection. We also look at the beginning of the Old Testament, including creation in Genesis 1, the ten commandments, and holiness. The goal is to give you confidence in reading the Bible thoughtfully and theologically. All questions and perspectives are welcome, and we enjoy learning together.

- Part of LCT's first-year undergraduate programme in Theology, Ministry and Mission
- Led by Revd Dr Richard Briggs, LCT's Principal and well-known Old Testament scholar
- Small-group, seminar-style discussion
- Weekly reading with no assignments
- Bursaries may be available
